Destructoid 2012. This year, so far, has been way more interesting than those on the other side of the World even realized. As I said last week, we featured a few games and we've gotten a few more games since then. On top of that, there have been a few giveaways of big announcements, both large and small. This week, we're going to highlight some of the biggest games on the way, both from established studios and always developing ones. Cave Story style surely fits this as the game is coming out somewhere on the Nintendo side, though there are no details released on the eShop yet. I'm sure we'll have a look at at least a few of these in the near future. However, it's been a heck of a week and I may not have as much to say on each game. So, I may only be able to focus on the big stuff.

First up, I have to stress

NEW FANTASY ACTION RPG Alchemy - Rebirth Meet the Balance Developers Manifesto Deck-building RPG Intricate roguelike Logic board Turn-based combat Balance of Eternity A new fantasy action RPG is currently in development by DWIU. Since this is the first game developed by DWIU, we felt like we needed to say a bit more about the game. The World Between Just like in an RPG, we are creating this RPG over an entire world. Deck-building and Card-Fighting Our game is all about deck-building. Once you have created your deck, you can then move on to building your character. Rather than a traditional experience system where you level up as a game progresses, we created a card-based system. In this card-based system, you solve scenarios by building your character and performing actions against enemies based on the individual cards that are played. Playing cards that have more powerful effects the player can change the course of the game. For example: you start with three initial cards in your deck. You play these cards against an enemy card. If you win, you gain experience points. You then create new cards that become available in the next encounter. Powers and Weapons You will have a plethora of powers to manipulate your enemies and the world. You are a hero in this world, they are the beings of this world. Perhaps they see you as a hero. Perhaps they see you as a villain. What do you wish to call yourself? New Fantasy Action RPG Based on the developer manifesto, we are releasing the game as it is now. The game is still undergoing some changes before the final release, but we aim to release the game first in Europe, our home, with a
