
Excel Champions League 2012 2013 [EXCLUSIVE]

Splyce qualified for playoffs at the end of the split. Following a 0-2 defeat to Misfits Gaming in the first round, they would have the opportunity to catch up with Schalke 04 in the first round of the playoffs, who had previously eliminated them from Worlds contention. They would go on to win 2-1 to advance to the Semi-Finals. They would then play against Splyce in the Finals and would go on to win 2-0, earning a spot in the World Championship for their 3rd consecutive year. Before Summer Split started, Excel announced their new players: Tyler "Sneaky" McCreery and Jérémy "Vizility" Schöne. They also announced that the starting bottom lane would be Tyler "Elise" McGrath and Håvard "Maestro" Skåre.

In the first game of the season, it seems like Excel are coming into the split much stronger and starting a lot stronger. They have also been doing a lot of experimentation in their roster, with the addition of a new top laner in Skye "Haechan" Howe and starting jungler in Johnny "Altec" Ha. We had a couple of big wins such as beating Team SoloMid, Team Dignitas, and Misfits. At the end of week 1, Excel were sitting in 2nd place in the LEC. Over that weekend, Excel were able to beat FURIA, SK Gaming, and G2. They were able to pick up their first win of the split against Misfits, and have been able to stay in 2nd place through the first week of play. Excel, a new team made up mostly of players who have some experience in the scene, but also a few rookies will be heading to Shanghai this year to take part in the 2015 World Championship. After a disappointing Spring Split, where Excel finished in 5th place, the team will need to play better in the Summer Split if they wish to go to the World Championship. However, they are still a very strong team that could finish in the top 8.
