“HyperMotion Technology” features the same in-world physics, engine and core gameplay systems, with 22 players doing the same things in the same ways, ensuring the game experience is consistent and rewarding across all players. Players will need to be aware of this to improve their on-field gameplay, and become more confident in their decision making. Another major enhancement with “HyperMotion Technology” is the introduction of “Skill Rating,” which makes skill more visible to players and gives a real sense of quality to players’ skills. Players now behave like real footballers and will be more expressive and reactive to the game environment. This leads to more intuitive decision making and better situational awareness, leading to more relevant, accurate and fluid on-field performance.
