Topaz Plugins Bundle for Photoshop 14.07.2014 Mac.. About. . .clustered index scans clustered index seeks Clustered index seeks are the fastest, which is why you don't want to use them, but mostly because they cause hotspots that make the application feel sluggish. Having the correct indexes can speed up INSERT, UPDATE, and DELETE operations by as much as 10 times. There is one more thing. Stored procedures They require recompilation You can optimize your SQL statements by modifying the source to optimize it. What you shouldn't do I don't use the.Read method but from experience, I would strongly recommend avoiding it. It runs 2 separate SQL statements, one to read and one to update. First, you need to know, if you are using SOL Server 2005+. there is a new feature called Change Data Capture (CDC) that allows you to keep your table up to date with your current data. Secondly, if you want to do a bulk insert (not in-line but offline), you should drop those bulk writes and update the reference table. Third, there is no way you should do a unique index in this situation. A: create a unique index on the field you're trying to enforce A: Aka create unique indexes. You cannot do it in SOL alone. Basically you need to explicitly maintain a unique list of records in a 3rd table or you'll have to enforce it externally. If you can use triggers to do it, they'll also be faster than a clustered index on that column, since they're essentially built-in INSERT/UPDATE/DELETE WHERE IOINS. Afridi was named in the ICC's provisional list of players, published on Tuesday, alongside Bangladesh's Shakib Al Hasan, who is serving a 10-month suspension from bowling, Afghanistan's Riaz Khan, India's R Ashwin and wicketkeeper-batsman R Harbajan are also in the provisional list. Chamara Singh and Fahim Anwar.
